

To whom it concerns;                      At the present moment I am located in Afganistan working as Security Lead for one of the many companies that are attempting to help out. Now I here that you are attempting to put the shackles on XM radio concerning there new venture which does nothing more that assist us, the listeners in our daily lives. If you intervene on this situation, you are doing and injustice. For if your situation is that of one on "helping" these other lobiest, you should have also then help out me and everyother small video store owner across the country. When the Block Busters of america moved into every little town, they basicaly put all of us out of buisness. Due to this we all adapt and over come to the situation, or we adjust and restructor buisness. What I am getting at is not one time do I feel that the US Government should or need to get in volved in situations like this.
